Agenda

Leipzig workshop on “Language Universals, typology and corpus-based Research”

Mittwoch, 14. November 2018

Mediencampus Leipzig, Schillersaal 1

-------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------

9:45 – 10:00  Welcome

10:15 – 10:45  Nikolaus Himmelmann (Cologne University):
                Nouns and Verbs

10:45 – 11:15  Corinna Handschuh (Regensburg University):
                Lexical and argument structure of naming constructions

11:15 – 11:45  Martin Haspelmath (MPI for the science of Human History, Jena and Leipzig University):
                Differential place marking and differential object marking

11:45 – 12:15  Natalia Levshina (Leipzig University):
                Token-based typology: word order in the Universal Dependencies corpora

12:15 – 13:15  Lunch break

13:15 – 13:45  Willem Adelaar (Leiden University):
                On the status of verbal aspect in Central Peruvian Quechua

13:45 – 14:15  Rebecca Voll (Leipzig University):
                Endangered languages corpora: An inventory for corpus linguists
14:15 – 14:45  Olav Müller-Reichau (Leipzig University):
Shorter and longer forms in Russian secondary imperfectives

14:45 – 15:15  Susanne Michaelis (MPI for the science of Human History, Jena and Leipzig University):
Asymmetry in tense-aspect coding: Creole data support a universal trend

15:15 – 16:00  Coffee break

16:00 – 16:30  Michael Cysouw (Marburg University):
Dynamic universals in the linguistic marking of location

16:30 – 17:00  Hans Götzsche (Aalborg University):
The issue of universals illustrated by analytic problems in phonology and syntax

17:00 – 17:30  Michael Richter (Leipzig University), Gerhard Heyer (Leipzig University):
Interaction of Information Content and Frequency as predictors of verbs’ lengths

17:30  Goodbye